OCTOBER IS BULLYING PREVENTION MONTH

There have been numerous discussions on whether bullying programs work or not. The answer is YES when they are data driven, taken seriously and enforced consistently. I believe that at Carver Middle School we have done the data and are listening to the needs of our students with their concerns about bullying and administration responds swiftly with appropriate consequences for those who bully

Carver Middle School Anti- Bullying Activities

T-shirt contest – Students will design on t-shirts an anti-bullying message. These t-shirts will be displayed in the front foyer for all to see that Carver is becoming NO BULLYING school.

Anti- Bullying Assembly – Students will meet in the gymnasium for a grade level assembly on a variety of topics concerning what bullying is and the devastation it can have on our students. There will be a power point, introduction of our anti- bullying committee, skits, videos and a questions and answer time.

Classroom Activities – I will be in several classrooms doing a hand on anti-bullying activity that will involve the students with the understanding of how devastating bullying can be.

School wide Anti Bullying Pledge – Students will sign an anti-bullying pledge during their lunch periods. There will be discussions on “Words Really Hurt”
